Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 13 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
The settled weather will continue with cold frosty nights.

This Evening and Tonight:
Clear spells likely, before cloud spreads south after midnight, along with the odd shower near the coast. Most parts staying dry, however. Feeling cold with mist and a sharp frost where clearer skies persist. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Wednesday:
Variable cloud and sunny spells throughout. Most parts staying dry, although a few showers are possible again. Temperatures near normal, but cooler towards the coast, with an onshore breeze. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Little change with sunny spells and temperatures slowly recovering to normal after cold, and occasionally frosty or perhaps foggy starts. Scattered showers likely on Thursday, but otherwise largely dry.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.